Event	Feelings
Suzy was very angry with Linda. There she was standing in front of the old house like some stunned animal.
Taking the lead, she walked up the old creaking steps onto the warped timber that made up the porch.
Suddenly, she could no longer feel Linda's hand. "Linda, where are you?" she asked. There was no reply.
She ran towards the door. Fear gave her the strength of thousands as she knocked the door open and charged outside.

Illustrate one of the events.
