Capsize!

Survival of the Fittest!

'The rescue crew in the rubber dinghy had decided that no one was left on the boat...they saw crew members pointing beyond the yacht. In the water was a man in a yellow survival suit.'

One of the essential pieces of equipment that Tony Bullimore used to assist his survival was the yellow survival suit that he was wearing when the yacht upturned.

Imagine you are venturing into the hot Australian desert for an overnight camping adventure. Make a list of the clothing and equipment you would need to assist your survival. Remember the desert can become very cold at night, so you will need some warm clothes and shelter!
